Transforming lives through education

RE-ENGAGE WITH COMMUNITY AND RE-CONNECT WITH LEARNING THROUGH THE CLEMENTE PROGRAM!

Are you

- over 18 years of age
- willing to learn
- able to commit to a 12 week program
- able to read & discuss a newspaper article?

The Clemente program could be for you.

Clemente is a university level course delivered at no cost to the student. Clemente is designed to enable individuals who are educationally or economically disadvantaged to complete a university course in a supportive and flexible environment. Learning Partners will support your learning and guide you through your study.

SEMESTER 1, 2018: SOCS100: INTRODUCTION TO SOCIOLOGY

Sociology is the study of group life and those parts of our individual and community lives that are affected by social interactions from birth and throughout our lives. This unit will introduce you to various perspectives and theories that will help you to understand the web of relationships that exist between us all. You will develop an understanding of the sociological perspectives that impact on individual and collective action from local and global social issues. The unit will provide you with grounding in the ethical, moral, and egalitarian aims of the sociological approach to society and social groups, and enhance your understanding and the skills necessary for effective writing in sociology, at an introductory level.

SEMESTER 1 STARTS: THURSDAY 22 FEBRUARY 2018

Classes occur once a week on Thursday (10am – 2pm) at Brisbane Common Ground, 15 Hope Street, South Brisbane
