Course snapshot

This Certificate IV in Ageing Support prepares you for a career as a specialised support worker in aged services. You could play a vital role in planning and delivering services within residential, home or community environments. You'll have the skills for a leadership role where you can make a positive difference in the lives of your colleagues as well as your patients.

THIS COURSE IS AVAILABLE ONLINE ONLY

COURSE LENGTH

Varies to according to your qualification and experience

Your trainer will work with you to identify what units you can obtain credit transfers or recognition of prior learning so that you only need to complete

ONLINE LEARNING

When you study online, you have the flexibility to learn around your other commitments while still having access to qualified and eager trainers via phone and email. Our trainers have years of industry experience as support workers and will make learning relevant and interesting. They understand that everyone learns differently – that's why they'll tailor their support to suit you.

We know that the best way to learn is through practical, hands-on experience. Even though your course is delivered online and in your own time, you will still get the opportunity to undertake 120 hours of work experience in at least one aged care or disability service organisation.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Do you know that jobs for qualified support workers are on the rise? During your course, we may interview you for volunteer opportunities that lead directly into employment when you graduate.

Are you still deciding what you want to do with your career? That's understandable. There are so many jobs suitable for qualified support workers. Our Certificate IV in Ageing Support will prepare you for a lot. You may even choose to use it as a pathway to a Diploma of Nursing.
