

Rebecca Oelkers

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER, BHC
DEPUTY CHAIR, COMMUNITY HOUSING INDUSTRY
ASSOCIATION (NATIONAL)

PRESENTER PROFILE AND BIOGRAPHY

Rebecca Oelkers is the Chief Executive Officer of BHC, one of the largest Community Housing Providers in Queensland, with over 2,000 homes developed and under management. Rebecca has over 20 years' experience in the community and affordable housing sector. Having previously held executive roles with BHC in business development and as Chief Operations Officer, Rebecca has a deep understanding of the company and a strong vision for its strategic growth and service enhancement. Rebecca is committed to ensuring that BHC's affordable housing provides not only safe and secure homes for tenants, but also supports tenants to achieve increased wellbeing and inclusion.

During her career, Rebecca has led several high-profile projects including the establishment of the Gold Coast Housing Company and Gladstone Affordable Housing which secured contributions of almost $20m from three Gladstone LNG proponents. Most recently, she led BHC's involvement in the Queensland Government's Housing Investment Fund, securing partnerships with the private sector with the intent of growing the supply of social and affordable housing by up to 1,200 homes in South East Queensland.

Rebecca is the Deputy Chair of the national Community Housing Industry Association, Director of UDIA Queensland, a former Board member of Queensland Shelter, a Graduate of the Australian Institute of Company Directors and recipient of the 2018 UDIA Women in Leadership Award. A passionate advocate for the sector, she has presented at national, state and local housing forums on a range of affordable housing issues.

Rebecca continues to lead BHC into a new era of evolution and innovation with her ambitious growth plans. As the scale of need for affordable housing continues to increase in Queensland, the BHC team are focused on achieving lasting change and delivering better outcomes for the many Australians who still do not have a safe, affordable place to call home.

Rebecca is an engaging and passionate speaker, with expert insight across a range of topics including:

- Supply of social and affordable housing in Brisbane and nationally
- Build to rent and institutional investment solutions for housing
- Housing older women over 55+
- NDIS and the provision of housing for people living with a disability
- Benefits of inclusive and accessible design
- Homelessness
- Organisational culture, strategy and performance
- Women in leadership
